Observers Prize Draw

To enter this prize draw and be in with a chance of winning all you need to do is submit your sightings and data via our SeaWatcher App or onto our website during the week of National Whale and Dolphin Watch (23-31st July).

Note: you can only be entered into the competition once as we would like to stress that quality and detailed data is more important than quantity when it comes to citizen science projects. Winners will be chosen at random when NWDW has ended, contacted via email and their prize will be posted.

First prize: £50 Waterlust gift voucher, SeaGarden whale poster, SnootyCatz no-waste travel bag, Pineapple Island turtle necklace and bracelet, Digg Designs totebag, Soul Projekt reusable straws and PinPressUK press pin

Runner up: Offshore t-shirt, Sarah Whittle humpback whale artwork, Dogwood Designs wooden whale keyring and Lizzie's Crochet Shop crochet dolphin

Photography Competition

To enter this competition, submit your best/favourite photo taken during National Whale and Dolphin Watch to nwdw@seawatchfoundation.org.uk with the subject "Photography Competition" and email containing the details of the photographer, age, location, and photograph details (e.g., species). Please note all submitted photos will be shared on Sea Watch Foundation social media and our website (with credit to the photographer). The winners will be chosen by our Director, Professor Peter Evans and the prizes sent by post to the winners. Deadline: Wednesday 3rd August

Adult Photography Competition prizes: 1st; £50 Waterlust gift voucher, 2nd; eco-care box and 3rd; Pineapple Island jewellery and Sarah Whittle lobster artwork
